Your TCMA Board of Directors met on March 26th to conduct its semiannual business session. One of the main topics was “When are we going to get together again?” Everyone was anxious to get about the business of our association in person. We are going back to our original plan from the Covid cancelled activities in Tyler! Our program Committee is working to provide you with the latest issues facing our industry, and our Chairman will have an update on the events of the 2021 session of the Texas legislature. Our industry has faced some monumental hurdles, and it will be beneficial to once again network with our fellow members. Look for a September date soon as our programs come together. We look forward to seeing all of you! •

Texas Manufacturing Activity Accelerates Sharply

Texas factory activity expanded at a markedly faster pace in March, according to business executives responding to the Texas Manufacturing Outlook Survey. The production index, a key measure of state manufacturing conditions, surged 28 points to 48.0, its highest reading in the survey’s 17-year history. *
